WAR CAMP COMMUNITY SERVICE.

City dignitaries, civilians and enlisted men were among those present at the opening of the Red Circle club on Monday night for Merchant mariners by the Boston War Camp Community Service. Welcoming addresses were made by Walter L. Collins, president Boston City Council; George B. Morrison, chairman of Clubs, and Edward F. Flynn, who represented the United States Shipping Board in the absence of Henry Howard. The speakers were introduced by Rufus D. Smith, Executive Secretary of the War Camp Community Service.

The Red Circle club is the first of its kind in America for men of the merchant marine. It is located at 350 Meridian St., East Boston, not far from Boston base, in the quarters of the East Boston Catholic Literary society, who have donated the building for the duration of the war. The management is under the direction of Walter K. Badger, and much praise is due for his untiring efforts to make the club a success. Mr. Badger became prominent on the South Shore through his efficient work at Allerton during the summer months.

HULL INDEPENDENT ASS'N.

Mr. Clarence V. Nickerson, Chairman,
Municipal Light Board,
Hull, Mass.

Dear Sir:

At a recent meeting of the Hull Independent Association, it was reported, on apparently good authority, that during thought from 1.00 o'clock on, no one is on duty at the plant on Electric Avenue, so that any person with malicious intent could upon gaining entrance to the building very easily put out of commission not only our town lighting and fire alarm systems but also the various government stations supplied over our wires.

Realizing the grave importance of the matter and the dangers that may arise from such a condition, if it exists, at a time like the present, our association unanimously voted that the secretary be instructed to call it to the attention of your board and request that the report above referred to be thoroughly investigated.

Trusting that the matter will receive your prompt and careful attention, I remain

Yours truly,

L. N. GILMAN.

Secretary Pro tem.

HULL VILLAGE PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION

The regular meeting of the Hull Village School Parent-Teacher Association will be held at the Village School on Monday, Nov. 11th, at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Ralph S. Barrow, a former graduate of the school will speak on "Child Welfare in the South" and will give some of her personal experiences. Mrs. Barrow has worked side by side with her husband all through the South in his work as Supt. of the Children's Aid Society and is well qualified to speak on her subject. Mrs. Barrow was a graduate nurse and had charge of the Children's hospital in Brookline and also in Birmingham, Alabama, before her marriage. All are cordially invited to attend this meeting. A business meeting will be held.

DAMON SCHOOL PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION

The regular meeting will be held Tuesday, Nov. 12th, at 3 o'clock p. m. The president urgently requests all members to be present as business of importance is to come before the meeting and also the annual election of officers, which could not be held in Oct. Let all make a special effort to be present.

BOYS EXAMINED.

The following boys from Hull were called before the Board District 37 on Monday for examination: George N. Nelson, Newcomb S. White, Willie B. Cleverly, Edward H. Butler, William De Tolito, William Reno, Hugo Bloodgood, Nathan J. Daly, Henry F. Farrell, James Eliot Mitchell, Oliver R. Olson.

THRIFT STAMPS ALWAYS GOOD.

It has been called to the attention of the National War Savings Headquarters, that there is current a misapprehension as to the value of Thrift Stamps at the end of this year. A number of people have made the statement that they would not feel warranted in urging the purchase of Thrift Stamps in December, for at the end of the year these would be valueless because 1919 would bring in a new issue.

The United States Government has no desire or intention of defrauding any holder of a government security or of taking away any part of the value of these securities by any technicality. B. Mason Hamlin, Acting State Director, says, "We are very pleased to say that Thrift Stamps bought on the very last day of the year, although not sufficient at that moment for exchange into a Savings stamp, will be taken care of by the Government and turned into the issue of the new War Savings Stamps by the payment of the amount due to make up the cost of the War Savings Certificate. There will be no penalty attached."

To make this statement doubly sure, there is appended an order from the Secretary of the Treasury in Circular No. 101, which reads as follows: "The Secretary of the Treasury will make provision for the exchange of Thrift Stamps after December 31, 1918, into War Savings Certificates, Series of 1919, upon payment of the additional amount then required, or into some other series, or will otherwise protect the interest of holders of Thrift Stamps."

This should set at rest finally all intimation that the National Government will not protect the smallest holders of its securities. Such assurance should not be necessary, but obviously it is.

ANNUAL REPORT.

The Allerton Branch of the Special Aid was organized April 17, 1918, with a membership of fifty. The following officers were elected: Mrs. Charles W. Randall, chairman; Mrs. Newton W. Wanser, vice chairman; Mrs. John M. Bryant, secretary; Mrs. John G. Clark, treasurer.

During June as our summer colony arrived, we had a membership drive and increased our membership to 200 and 26 Juniors.

The membership drive now being over we turned our efforts toward raising money to finance the work. On July 23, a bazaar was held at the Nautilus Inn, which netted us $1,452.41.

The success of our bazaar was due largely to the efficient work of our chairman, Mrs. Chas. W. Randall, who was chairman of the fair also. The following is a list of the work we have accomplished. We have fitted out 26 boys with a complete knitted outfit. We have made 388 pieces of knit work, 772 pieces of sewing. We have shipped goods to the American Fund for French Wounded to the number of 362 pieces; to the Special Aid 323 pieces including 100 pr. socks.

In July with the help of the Mass. Branch, we furnished 850 pairs socks to Fort Andrew boys on their departure for overseas.

We donated one hundred dollars to the South Shore Service club. We have raised $2,053.25, total. In the drive for the total on Sept. 7, 1918, our members helped a great number. On the Fourth Liberty loan, the members cooperated with the men's committee, Mrs. Lewis Gilman, in charge, who established booth in each of Post Office and Fire stations, the men making a house to house canvass.

During the recent epidemic of influenza, our members helped by carrying soup, jelly and cream, to the sick, also soliciting nurses to care for the sick. The work of the branch has been carried on faithfully for the past six months.

The rooms were open for knitting and sewing every Wed. and Fri. during the summer and open on Wed. during the winter months as the population is very small and scattered during the winter.

The Allerton Branch stand ready to help as conditions demand. We are now working on the Xmas Bags to be sent across.

This concludes the six months activities of the Allerton Branch of Special Aid.

Respectfully submitted,
BLANCHIE G. BRYANT, Secretary.
(Mrs. John M. Bryant)

COUNTY OFFICERS G. A. R.

AND W. R. C.

Rockland, Nov. 1.—At the county convention of the G. A. R. this afternoon the following officers were elected and installed by Junior Vice Department Commander George W. Wilder of Boston: Commander, John F. Hatch of Abington; senior vice-commander, Jason O. Hersey of Rockland; junior vice commander, Oliver A. Merritt of Whitman; adjutant, J. E. Lincoln of Kingston; chaplain, Samuel J. Wade of Brookton; surgeon, Bela Allen of Whitman; quartermaster, William H. Nash of Abington; officer of the day, Everett Mann of Haverly; officer of the guard, William E. Lord of Hingham; quartermaster sergeant, Orlin H. Ellis of Whitman; sergeant major, Charles Withersell of Rockland.

The officers elected by the W. R. C. and installed by Department President Flora S. Chapin of Worcester are as follows: President, Mrs. Maude Magoun of East Bridgewater; senior vice-president, Mrs. Delvina Blair of Brookton; junior vice-president, Mrs. J. W. Hinkley of West Haverly; guard, Mrs. Jennie Torrey of South Scituate; Mrs. Cora Rumpus of Plymouth; conductor, Mrs. Dora Edson of Whitman; assistant conductor, Mrs. Susie Simmons of Rockland; treasurer, Mrs. Blanche Dunn of North Abington; assistant guard, Mrs. Eunice Studley of Norwell; secretary, Mrs. Lena Foule of Bridgewater.

Mrs. Chapin was assisted by Mrs. Anne P. Atwood of Whitman and Mrs. Lillian Josselyn of Pembroke.

In the afternoon there was a joint public meeting of the two organizations. Commander John F. Hatch presided and an interesting program was provided. Rev. E. E. Bachelder gave an address of welcome and there was speaking by Department Senior Vice-Commander George W. Wilder of Boston, Department Patriotic Instructor Joshua S. Gray of Rockland, Department President Mrs. Flora S. Chapin of Worcester, Past Department President Mrs. Annie P. Atwood of Whitman and others. Songs were given by Mrs. Howard Curtis, violin solos by Miss Mildred Burgess and character sketches by Robert Josselyn and Josephine Sabine. The summer meeting will be held at Island Grove, Abington.

SAD DEATH OF MRS. WILLIAM F. MURRAY.

Mrs. William F. Murray, widow of the late Postmaster, died very suddenly about 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Charlegette Hospital, Cambridge. She had been a patient at the hospital for some weeks and a daughter was born to her there. Her recovery seemed to be assured and she was to be discharged Friday night it was said she would have returned to her home on Sunday. Early in the afternoon she had a sinking spell from which she failed to rally. Death was due to embolism.

The body was taken to the home of her mother, 41 Melville Ave. Dorchester. Mrs. Murray was Miss Mary A. Lappen of Dorchester. She was born in South Boston, where she resided her early education. She was a graduate of the Roxbury High School, and of Dr. Sargent's School, Cambridge.

Mrs. Murray is survived by a boy 15 months old and a girl two weeks old, her mother, her sister, Miss Margaret Lappen and a brother, Dr. George Lappen.

She married William F. Murray Aug. 11, 1913, when he was a member of Congress. The wedding came as a surprise. Two days later Mrs. Murray, accompanied by her aunt, Miss Katherine F. Holland, sailed on the S. S. Cymric for Europe and her husband sailed with her as far as Boston Light, where he bade her farewell and with the pilot got aboard a tug. Their many friends who waved a farewell to the bride and groom from the wharf thought "Confound it, the intended so-called to sail to Europe with his bride. The pressure of his duties at Washington prevented him from going on the trip, but he did not wish to disappoint his wife and her aunt by depriving them of the two months' journey they had planned.

A throng of nearly 1000 persons, including postoffice officials attended the funeral. The services were held at St. Mark's church, the Rev. John M. Farrell officiating. The bearers were Dr. F. L. Good, D. J. Hurley, acting postmaster; Henry Fitzgerald, J. T. Kennedy, Richard Teeling and Dr. M. F. McCarthy. Interment was in Holyhood.

OCT. REPORT OF ALLERTON SPECIAL AID.

There was one new member added, $100 in membership, amounting to $24.60. Mordock Gillis was fitted with complete outfit; finished 69 pieces of knit work, 80 pieces of sewing. On account of epidemic, no goods were shipped and no meetings held.

WILL REFUND MONEY

The following young ladies: Beatrice Sears, Dorothy Dickerman, Dorothy and Isabel Trip and Gladys McWilliams, who were in charge of the Halloween party to have been given in the Damon School regret exceedingly that they were unable to carry out their plans. They had worked hard and everything was ready. Over 100 tickets were sold and they expected to turn over about $25.00 to the Special Aid for war work when the order came from the board of health to close the school house. The nature of the party was such it could not very well be postponed and so it was decided to do what seemed best under the circumstances and refund the money to all those having tickets, who present them to Mrs. Burr on or before Nov. 10th. All money left at that time will be turned over to the Special Aid as a donation from the five older members of the Junior Special Aid.

Mrs. J. E. Campbell, Chairman.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

Miss Della Mitchell tendered a Halloween Party to a group of friends at the home of her sister, Mrs. Amy Johns on Thursday evening, Oct. 31st. Those present were Messrs. Goodwin, Cary, Walsh, Clemens, Marble, Caskey, Nelson, Maurine, Alan, Witte, Misses Marion Pope, Aretusha Packard, Emily Galliano, Alice Gay, Edith Brown, Mrs. E. Ayer, Mrs. John Brown, Mrs. Ella Streeter, Mrs. W. H. Hannon and Miss Ann O'Connell of Framingham. A chorus of Miss Mitchell's Gnomes were played and a lunch served and a patriotic song service closed a very enjoyable evening. The boys were all members of the 22 Co. Fort Devens.

Minors for Sheeplock. A Western editor recently referred to a "herd" of sheep, and he was promptly corrected by another editor, who asserted that he should have called the "herd" a flock. Most people will be disposed to side with the latter, and ask how are they going to explain the fact that the person who takes care of a flock of sheep is a shepherd?—Christian Science Monitor.

TIMELY TOPICS

Wise, Super-Wise and Otherwise

"THEM'S OUR SENTIMENTS, TOO."

In the christening of vessels launched hereafter from the shipyards in Portland, Oregon, loganberry juice is to be substituted for champagne. It would be far better to abandon the silly custom of breaking bottles containing anything, or devoid of contents, across the bows of vessels about to be shot from the ways; yet if ascusible people must go about a change in this direction gradually, perhaps a bottle of loganberry juice may as well be used as any other commodity. But the preceding, in any event, will involve wastage at a time when everybody is being asked, appealed to, argued with, cautioned and warned, to save.—Christian Science Monitor.

We rise to remark that we could use some bottles of loganberry juice at our Thanksgiving dinner, which would, we opine, be putting it to a much better use than spilling it over innaminate wood.

ONE ON THE BROCKTON ENTERPRISE.

Brant Rock had the highest tide of the season recently. It covered the marsh, and put the rear roadway afloat.—Brockton Enterprise.

We thought that when the good townspeople of Marshfield elected their road master, they got one who nailed down the highway so that it couldn't float. "The rear roadway," Whatdoyoumean?

Winsome Childhood.

The growing child frankly finds himself the most interesting person in the world, and we forgive him to some extent and attempt to show him that he must conceal his personal liking for himself. Some of us may recall the story of the little boy who had been a delightful listener while his mother (real here) told the neighbors of his cute little manners and ways.

How Old Is First Auto?

According to Ernest Saut, a French Journalist, who has made a study of the history of the automobile, more than six centuries ago a man endeavored to build a "horseless carriage."

Music's Effects.

Children, the young and the vigorous, are more resistant or find more pleasure in noises than do the older and less healthy. Martial music to incite action, courage and animal spirits approaches that mild bedlam of the average boy. The rhapsodies of love and effete civilization require soft, soothing, gentle and calm melodies. The supersensitive ears of such quiet, far-from-bold natures are made ill by the rugged sounds of conquering heroes.—Exchange.

No Mystery in Meat

Some things are so simple that they have to be explained again and again. When things are obvious, people keep looking for mysteries behind them.

So it is with the packing business. The mere size of Swift & Company confuses many. Because their imaginations are not geared up to scale, they believe there must be magic in it somewhere—some weird power.

Swift & Company is just like any other manufacturing business run by human beings like yourself; it takes in raw material on the one hand and turns out a finished product on the other.

Swift & Company keeps down the "spread," or the expense absorbed between raw and finished material, to as low a figure as possible. (If it didn't it would be put out of business by others who do.)

How much Swift & Company pays for the raw material, and how much it gets for the finished product, depends upon conditions which Swift & Company does not control.

It depends entirely upon how much people want the finished product, and how much raw material there is available to make it from.

The profits of Swift & Company amount to less than one cent per pound on all meats and by-products—less than one-fourth of a cent on beef.

"Devotedly, Bill"

By IZOLA FORRESTER

(Copyright, 1915, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"Where are the matches?"
Nan stumbled over a tabourette and emitted a startled exclamation.
"Forevermore! Eleanor, where on earth are you?"
"Stand still until I can find where the switch is, goose." Then came the click of a button and the long reception hall lay revealed in a flood of light. "Thank goodness, the current wasn't shut off. Everything else seems to be. It's better than waiting five hours at the station, anyhow, and we can get a little sleep before we catch the morning train."

"Where are you going? Don't leave me alone. I've got the everlasting mulligubbs now. It's like a haunted house!"
Eleanor snuggled down at the forlorn, tired figure on the offending tabourette. "I just want to call mother up on long distance so she won't send the car down to meet us at daybreak." She lifted the receiver from the stand telephone. "Hello, hello! Operator? Why, yes, this is turned off, Nan."

"We could go to a hotel," dubiously.
"Well, we won't. We'll go right upstairs and go to bed in comfort." Eleanor drew off her long gloves and yawned.

It was after twelve, and they both needed rest more than anything after the trip down from the mountains. Nan peered into the shadowy hall.

"Empty houses are awful places, I think. They always seem sort of dead. Do you remember Tennyson's 'Deserted House'?

"I Don't Believe in Ghosts."

"Life and thought have gone away, aside by side."
"No, I don't. 'Fraid Cat." Eleanor picked up her suitcase and cloak. "I don't believe in ghosts or goblins, or any fearsome things at all. Come along."

It was cheerier in the cozy bedroom suite upstairs. The rooms connected with each other, and Nan rambled about, her brown hair in two long braids, and a kimono wrapped about her, looking at the girlish knickknacks and photographs scattered about. It was Eleanor's own special corner of the house. One could trace each of her college years by the books, pennants and Kodak pictures. All at once she stopped short. Tucked into a corner was one photograph that seemed different from all the rest. It was such a splendidly manly young face that smiled out at one from it. He seemed to take the whole world into his confidence. Nan turned it over and read on the back in a scrawling, boyish writing:

"Devotedly, Bill."

Over at the little white dressing table, Eleanor sat brushing her hair. Somehow no one would ever have connected her with college boys who signed themselves, "Devotedly, Bill." She was so self contained, so rather imperious in her ways. At old Brangwaine hall, where Nan had been her classmate for four years, the other girls had nicknamed her "Queen Eleanor." But Bill did not belong to the Brangwaine days. Nan knew there had been a special course up at Cornell when Eleanor had left the hall. Bill surely belonged to that period. And suddenly Nan chuckled to think that dear old dignified Nell, as they had called her, should have had a romance all by herself with this wide eyed, joyous youngster.

"What are you chuckling over?" asked Eleanor.

"Devotedly, Bill."

The face reflected in the oval mirror colored swiftly. Eleanor turned around, her fair hair falling loosely over her shoulders, her eyes flitting with tears.

"Oh, Nell, I didn't mean to stir up anything."

"Oh, it's all right. You didn't strike my heavy minor chord." She looked down at the photograph tenderly.

He was just a boy I met up at Cornell last winter, the very first boy that ever dared to love me. You know, Nan, how it seemed as if I always rather frightened away men. I never could flirt and be nice like the rest of the girls. And up there one day I was in the library about sundown, looking up some references. He came up behind me, and never even asked permission, just tipped back my head, and kissed me good and plenty."

"Bless his old brave heart," interrupted Nan fervently, leaning forward in chin on her hands. "Then what?"
"Then (Eleanor's eyes were dreamy) one day I went skating down on the lake, and the ice broke through. He got me out, saved my life, every one said. Mother came up to see us then, and I wanted her to know Bill. That's about all. You know mother. She simply whisked me down here in the spring, and closed the house in June the day after he called here. She's trotted me around all summer, trying to make me forget, and I haven't any idea where he is now."

"Doesn't he even write to you?"

"We promised we wouldn't—not for a year. What's that?"

Both girls rose to their feet with startled eyes.

"Somebody fell over the tabourette in the hall," Nan whispered, her dark eyes wide with dread. "You turned off the lights."

Eleanor thought quickly. The house had been closed since June. A caretaker came every day to look after it, and at night the watchman was supposed to guard it. She crossed the room and locked both doors leading into the hall, then went to the windows.

"Did you hear that?" Nan whispered, her face pressed against the door listening. "Somebody whistled, and it was answered."

"I'll have to break those shutters to call for help," Eleanor looked about for a battering ram. Outside in the bare hall there came the unmistakable sound of footsteps, a moment's pause and pounding on the door.

Nan shrank back, her face covered with her hands, but Eleanor slipped one arm around her, soothing her even while her own heart throbbed heavily. It was terrible to hear that sound echoing through the great empty house, to stand in helpless suspense, not knowing what danger waited on the other side of the door.

"Come on, now!" called a deep voice. "Open up. You know you can't get out of there."

"And you cannot get in," returned Eleanor clearly. "If you attempt to break in the doors I will fire."

"Sure, 'tis a woman's voice," they heard some one say. "Shall I break in the door, Mr. Blair?"

"No, no, wait." The knob turned. A shoulder pressed against the door panel. "Nell, open the door, please. I know your voice. It's Bill."

"Who's with you?"

"Just the watchman. I saw the lights and thought burglars were in here. Open the door, please."

Eleanor turned the key. Tall and very lovely she looked in her long blue crepe kimono, her face pale and determined. In two long braids over her shoulders like some old-time Saxon princess.

Out in the hallway stood Bill, the original of the picture, and the old watchman.

"Nell," he cried, "I had no idea it was you in here. I've had a room across the street all summer just to be near the house, and when I saw the light flash on, I called Sullivan here and we hustled over to get the burglars. I'm awfully sorry."

Sullivan moved tactfully down the hallway, testing locks here and there. Nan had dropped limply into a willow chair, with its back toward the two at the door. Bill raised two white slim hands to his lips and kissed them.

"It's so wonderful to see you again, girl, dear. I've watched these barred shutters all summer, waiting for you to come back. I won't wait a year. Nell. Look at me. Aren't you glad to see me?"

"Don't you know, Billie boy?"

"Listen, dear. Don't let them take you away from me again. It's Providence, this mixup here tonight. I've been patient for months. Don't say no, Nell. I'll be over early for you, and we'll be married before anything can happen."

He was gone before she could even protest. From the willow chair came a contented chuckle, and a brief remark:

"Devotedly, Bill."

European Tobacco Fields.

Tobacco fields in Italy and France are not a novelty. The leaf has been grown in those countries since the introduction of tobacco from the West Indies in Columbian times, but its cultivation dwindled because of the ease with which supplies could be obtained from those parts of the world where tobacco culture is a chief industry because of some peculiar adaptability of the soil and climate and the familiarity of labor with its cultivation and curing. It is very likely that there were patches of tobacco growing in the gardens and on some of the farms of Spain, Italy and France before the Jamestown settlers began the systematic cultivation and export of the plant. There are authorities which go to prove that the use of tobacco was known to the ancients.

Sense of Relief.

"How do you like these gasoleneless Bunnys?"

"All right," answered Mr. Chuggins, "I don't mind having one day in the week when I don't have any doubt about getting the old machine home before bedtime."

For Eighteen Years

She Has Found the Same Medicine Good. The Story in Her Own Words.

The experience of Mrs. David Horn of Route No. 1, Irwinton, Wilkinson Co., Ga., is not exceptional. Peruna has been an accepted standard household remedy to take remedy, for forty-five years.

Mrs. Horn writes under date of July 30, 1915:—"I have been using your medicine for eighteen years. I think it one of the best tonics I ever used. I owe my life to the use of it. I recommend it to all sick people. Peruna cured me of stomach trouble."

For coughs, colds, effects of the grip and influenza, catarrh and catarrhal conditions of every description, Peruna is recommended. Thousands have been helped or are able to attribute a full and complete recovery from some terrible affliction to Peruna. Try Peruna first.

SUGAR RATION IS INCREASED

From Two Pounds to Three Pounds Per Person Per Month—Portsmouth Cafeteria Closed For Week—Retailer's Margin Of Profit On Butter Fixed—Liver and Bacon Once Divorced—Now Re-United.

AMERICA CANNOT FAIL

Last year the American people by their voluntary action made it possible to send eleven and three-fourths million tons of food overseas.

But the test is not over. The task before us is even greater than the task achieved.

We must send the Allies and our own soldiers and sailors overseas seventeen and one-half million tons of food this year.

Each of us is individually responsible for the obligation our Country has assumed. We have now to make our supreme effort.

Our lines must hold—America cannot fail.

FROM TWO POUNDS TO THREE POUNDS PER PERSON PER MONTH

People of New Hampshire are now able to buy sugar at the rate of three pounds per person per month instead of two pounds as heretofore. The change went into effect Friday, November 1st and not only is there an increased allowance, but a householder may now purchase a month's supply at a time.

Food Administrator Spaulding in speaking of the change says "That the increased ration is due largely to the splendid conservation efforts of the American people and the citizens of New Hampshire have taken a splendid part in this saving. Other factors leading to the increase are the rapid manufacture of the new crop of beet sugar in the west, the splendid crop of the Louisiana cane sugar in the south, freer railroad transportation facilities and the Cuban crop which promises enlarged supplies."

The grocers were notified of this new ruling when it went into effect November first.

PORTSMOUTH CAFETERIA CLOSED FOR WEEK

Following a hearing before Food Administrator H. N. Spaulding, the Apollo Lunch of Portsmouth, N. H. was closed for one week beginning midnight last Sunday evening. Following Mr. Spaulding's decision in this matter which involved the falsification of weekly baker's reports complaints were received from several of Portsmouth's leading citizens that the closing of this cafeteria would work a hardship on the community. Therefore, before the closing order became effective the restaurant situation in Portsmouth was quite fully investigated and sufficient evidence was presented to show that the other centrally located restaurants in Portsmouth could take care of the trade of the Apollo lunch during the week's closing period.

RETAILER'S MARGIN OF PROFIT ON BUTTER FIXED.

After learning that the retail dealers in some sections of the state were securing an unfair margin of profit on butter the Distribution Division of the Food Administration sent out a notice to all retail dealers that a margin of profit in excess of five cents a pound in the case of "cash and carry" stores and six cents a pound in the case of "credit and delivery" stores would be considered as excessive.

There is a temporary scarcity of butter at this time owing to the commandeering of 60% of the stock carried in storage by the Government for the use of the armed forces of the United States at home and abroad. The grocers are now very careful to adhere to this ruling.

LIVER AND BACON, ONCE DIVORCED, NOW RE-UNITED.

One of the most peculiar questions asked of the Food Administration is "Are eggs a by-product of a hen?" A letter was received recently from a proprietor of a public eating place calling attention to General Order No. 4. This order provides that no public eating place shall serve to any patron at any one meal more than one kind of meat. The rule goes on to state "For the purpose of this rule meat shall be considered as including beef, mutton, pork, poultry, and any by-products thereof." The anxious inquirer felt that if eggs could be considered a by-product of poultry it would be permissible to serve in his restaurant ham and eggs to any patron at any one meal.

Although Food Administrator Spaulding ruled on October 26th that liver and bacon could not be served together in public eating places, Washington has since decided that although these are two separate meats it will be permissible to serve them together, and therefore, Mr. Spaulding has reversed his decision in this particular.

THE AMERICAN SPIRIT

When America goes forth to battle
This because she's forced to right some wrong.

When her cannon roar and muskets rattle
This because some tyrant's reigned too long.

She can't hear to see oppression crushing
Worthy manhood, wheresoever found.

To the rescue all her power goes rushing
Till all shackled peoples are unbound.

Bounteous nature gave us such resources
We must use them for the good of all.

Through our veins the strength of freedom courses,
We must answer every sufferer's call.

With Old Glory proudly floating o'er us
North and South and East and West unite.

Marching singing, in determined chorus,
We will help men striving for the right.

When republics land by land have taken
All the earth for popular control,

And all tyrants from their thrones are shaken,
No more shall we hear the war-drums roll.

Land of Freedom, ring for every stepple,
World-wide suffrage then can prove its worth.

Government of and by and for the people
Shall not, Lincoln, perish from the earth.

OLD RESIDENT PASSED AWAY

Mr. William Wallace Studley passed away at his late home on Pleasant street on Monday, Oct. 28th at the age of 75 years, 6 months, his birthday being April 16th.

Mr. Studley had resided for many years in Cohasset where most of his seven children were born and reared. He married Sarah Brown of Cohasset, who died.

The funeral took place from his late home on Friday afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. Mr. Cole, pastor of Unitarian Church, officiating.

The funeral train which were many and beautiful, included a great cross from Vol. Veteran Firemen's Ass'n, of which association he was one of the oldest and a valued member.

Also a pillow from the children was among the flowers. He is survived by seven children, Mrs. Edna Studley of W. Mass., Mrs. Emma Barnes of Braintree, Mr. Arthur Studley of N. Cohasset, Mrs. Arthur Littlefield of Cohasset, Mrs. Alfred Freeman of Duxbury, Mr. Clarence Studley of Ridgefield, Conn.; Miss Mary Studley of Lowell, twenty-three grandchildren, six great grand children, three brothers and two sisters also survive him. Interment was in the family lot in Central Cemetery.

The customary news items will be omitted this week to make room for the account of the launching of the "Cohasset" and for also the Letter of Thanks and appreciation received by Mrs. Herbert Tucker for the Italian officials who received with gratitude the money sent them for the relief of the Italian people.

The regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher Ass'n. of the Davenport school will be held at the school building on Thursday, Oct. 28th. Parents and friends are invited to attend.

Last Friday was fire-drill at the Ringham High School. At the close of the fire bell rang and everyone tried to get out at once, so it is said, which proves that much drill is needed and that the children should take heed and do as told.

It seems lonely at Nantasket with so many of the steamboat men and families gone.

Mrs. Frank E. Learned spent Sunday at her villa at Sunset Point.

Mrs. John Morton has recovered from her recent illness, and is able to be around again.

Next hallows' party scheduled for last Friday evening could not be held because of the schools being closed on account of sickness.

Mr. Robert A. Kelley leaves on Tuesday for a week's trip to New York.

It is with regret we learn of the death of our well known summer resident, Mrs. William F. Murray, wife of the late Hon. William F. Murray, postmaster of Boston, who died last month ago. Mrs. Murray died at the Gloucester Hospital, Cambridge. She is survived by two children, her mother, a sister, Miss Margaret Lappen, and a brother, Dr. George Lappen.

Mr. and Mrs. William Irwin and family will occupy the Casey House on Centre Hill for the winter. Mr. Irwin is employed at Fore River Ship Yards, and Mrs. George McKay of Hingham.

You can get most any little thing you want at the stores along the South Shore and also big things if you need them. And the prices make those of Boston houses seem colossal. Save money and trade at home.

MOST TELEPHONE SUBSCRIBERS pay their bills promptly and the labor expended in collecting the majority of telephone accounts is, therefore, reason-able.

BUT THERE ARE A NUMBER of subscribers who overlook their telephone bills, who neglect to pay them within the reasonable specified time, and the labor of collecting these accounts is -probably two or three times as great as that involved in collecting all the accounts that are paid within the desired period.

THE LABOR involved in collecting overdue accounts would be saved if all accounts were paid within a reasonable time, and, under present war-time conditions, might better be devoted to other work of value to the community's telephone service.

We are taking this means of placing the facts before telephone subscribers in general and we feel certain that they will co-operate by paying their bills promptly.

HINGHAM HAPPENINGS

COUGHLIN-GORMAN

The marriage of Miss Marjorie Gorman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Gorman of North street and Edward Coughlin, U. S. N. R., son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Coughlin of Salem, was celebrated at the rectory of St. Paul's Church last Friday evening.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, Miss Mildred Connolly of East Weymouth was maid of honor and Mr. Ralph Martin U. S. N. R., of Dorchester was best man.

Old Colony Lodge, A. F. & A. M. elected the following officers for the ensuing year at its last meeting: Charles R. Downing, W. M.; Ralph C. Stoddard,
S. W.; William L. Howard, J. W.; David
Cobb, treasurer and George S. Marsh, secretary.

Mrs. N. F. Emmons has turned over the entire management of the advertising Ball to the entertainment committee.

Don't forget to save all the fruit stones for gas marks.

News has reached Hingham of the recent marriage of Miss Gladys W. Hersey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hershey of Elm street, Hingham and Chas. to Mr. David D. Pascoe of the West Indies.

Cards have been issued by the war department to soldiers in France as requisitions for Christmas boxes, packages are beginning to arrive in Hingham. The work of carter for these boxes has been assigned to the Hingham Branch and the committee are ready to give information and receive packages.

The annual meeting of the Needle work Guild was held at the home of Mrs.
George S. Marsh recently. After the business, the inspection and distribution of the garments which were donated were made. All members and others who are interested in the work of the Guild are requested to send their contributions of garments, household linen or money for the Boot and Shoe Fund to Mrs. Geo. S. Marsh or to any of the vice presidents. The donation of two new garments, each year, constitutes membership.

Word was received of the death of Lieut. Ralph Talbot of South Weymouth of the Aviation Section of Marine Corps. He was killed on the Belgian front when his bombing plane was shot down by the Germans. Lieut. Talbot was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Talbot and enlisted in his sophomore year at Yale. He leaves a sister, Mrs.
Joseph Wall of South Street Hingham, whom he visited before he left in June.

Miss Muriel McCreery of Hingham Centre has entered the Freshman Class of the College of Fine Arts of Boston University.

Mr. William Terry has enlisted in the Aviation Corps and is stationed at Gorden City, Long Island.

Mrs. Martha Littleton of Hingham
Centre is visiting her son, Mr. Norman Littleton of Newport.

Mr. Frances G. Boggs, who was an original member of the State Guards, is on his way to France to see service in the Motor Transport Corps.

The annual meeting for election of officers of the Hingham Agricultural and Horticultural Society was held and the following were elected for 1918-19:
president, Edgar M. Lane; vice presidents, Eben L. Ripley, Urban S. Bates, Alfred L. Lincoln, James F. Jones, Wm.
I. Gifford, Geo. Whitney, Jacob O. Sanborn, Samuel H. Spalding, Leonard C.
Linnet; secretary, Harry W. Young, treasurer, Harry F. Zohn; secretary of the exhibition, Harry F. Cross; auditor, Edgar M. Lane; librarian, Harry W.
Young. It was voted to hold meetings in May, June, July, August, September and October, 1919. The June meeting to be a flower and strawberry show;

a fruit, flower and vegetable show at the August meeting and the annual exhibition in September. A letter was read from Wilfred Wheeler, state commissioner, regarding the Farmers' Institutes which has been run for the last 60 years.
The State Guard duty at the Brockton Field Hospital ended last Sunday. It was with a good deal of satisfaction that they can look back on the 10 days' assistance they gave the Brockton company.

The Woman's Alliance held a postponed meeting in the First Parish House last week, Mrs. Walter L. Bouve, presiding, an address on "Our Ministry" was delivered by Rev. Maxwell Savage of Lynn. There was a social hour with Afternoon tea and Mrs. Chas. A. Southworth and Mrs. J. Alfred Mitchell poured.

The Plymouth County Farmer says:
"Walter J. Severns, Marshfield, who is handling a tractor for the State steadily for some time and it looks as

ANOTHER LIBERTY LOAN COMING.

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo has announced that, no matter what the results of the pending overtures for peace may be, there will be another Liberty Loan. To use his expression,
"We are going to have to finance peace for a while just as we have had to finance war."

There are over 3,000,000 United States soldiers abroad. If we transport these men back to the United States at the rate of 300,000 a month, it will be over a half a year before they are all returned. Our Army, therefore, must be maintained, victualled and clothed for many months after peace is an actuality.

The American people, therefore, having supported the Liberty loan with a patriotism that future historians will love to extol, will have an opportunity to show the same patriotism in financing the just and conclusive victorious peace whenever it comes.

Not for a moment, however, is the Treasury acting on any assumption that peace is to come soon. Until peace is actually assured the attitude of the Treasury and the attitude of the whole United States Government is for the most vigorous prosecution of the war, and the motto of force against Germany without stint or limit will be acted up to until peace is an absolute accomplished fact.

One more Liberty Loan, at least, is certain. The Fourth loan was popularly called the "Fighting Loan"; the next loan may be a fighting loan, too or it may be a peace loan. Whatever the conditions, the loan must be prepared for and its success rendered certain and absolute. Begin now to prepare to support it.

WANTED—A correspondent for Scituate.

Thomas Carter, one of the best known sporting men of Brockton, was the host Thursday evening at a Hallowe'en party given at his cottage at Sand Hills, Scituate. He is employed at Scituate U. S. proving ground, a big government project, where he holds a responsible position as chief field clerk. He has become so accustomed to his 500 men that he can tell their numbers without looking at their badges. His friends gave him a beautiful wrist watch as a token of their esteem, a very appropriate present in his line of work. Games were played during the evening and the house was decorated with lanterns, a very pretty display. Mr. Carter responded in a pleasing manner to the presentation and spoke a few words to the young men present in regard to their work and winning the war. He said every minute counts in the completion of the work and is one more shot at the Germans.

Those present numbered close to 200,
the most prominent being Arthur Quinlan, who made the presentation speech; W. Frank McCarthy, field auditor; Fred Mullins, chief time keeper; Arthur Porter, chief material clerk, and his assistant, Dick Murley, who is a warm friend of Mr. Carter; his room-mate from the start of the job, William Payton; William Carroll of S. P. T. A. S. fame; John Fagan, Henry Godette, Dan Clancy, James
Murphy, who presided at the piano;
Doherty, John Doyle, John Twomey,
Grattan Walls of Brockton, William
Foley of Roxbury, William Sullivan,
Mr. Gay, Mr. McNamara, and a number of his men. Tony Rofofo had his Italians there in full force, Tony Saragosi and Manuel Silva were at the head of the Portuguese and T. J. Carabaca of Plymouth headed the Spanish workers.

The party adjourned at 1:30. The next to hold a house party will be James Baird, late of the Long & Johnson Co., now chief tool clerk for the government.—Brockton Enterprise.

Trim and Graceful Business Frock

This frock is so patently made to be generally serviceable that one might class it among those that would make excellent uniforms. The woman who goes to business, the girl at college and she who manages much of her work at home, among other affairs, will all cast more than an indifferent glance at this frock. It is typical of the times. A new order of things seems to be established in social life and it is reflected in apparel. Added to the army of women who must be busy is another that chooses to be busy, and they are adopting dresses that look the part. The industrious gentler sex is getting very sensible. But the eternal feminine demands trimness, grace and originality even in frocks that it expects to become almost unconscious of when they are worn. These are the things that have enthroned the tailored suit in the hearts of American women and they are the characteristics of the frock pictured here. It has long and graceful lines accomplished by six box plaits that extend to the bottom of the skirt, and rows of bone buttons to emphasize this length of line. The bodice is extended into overlapping scallops that are stitched to the plaits on the skirt and the sleeves are managed so as to combine the maximum of convenience with good style. They are cut in the effect of a kimono and are in two pieces, set together near the top. Narrow straps and buttons embellish this joining. A soft collar of white batiste and very narrow turned-back cuffs to match introduce a dainty note in this businesslike affair, and thereby it acquires a final charm in the eyes of all women.

Small Plaids in Children's Frocks

Among the many plaids which have been presented this season only a few are in small patterns. All of them have been cleverly used by designers of children's frocks and naturally large plaids predominate in the frocks as in materials. But few of the models excel the pretty dress shown in the picture above, in which small plaid in green, blue and a little dash of red, with crossbar of white, is made up with emplacements of plain blue.

The photograph tells the story of the design so cleverly that a description seems unnecessary, but in the small details of finishing, which mean so much to the model, there are a few original touches not emphasized in the picture. The collar of the plain material is banded with a darker border in green and has a border of needlework in which embroidery silk in the colors of the plaid proves effective in simple stitches. The design is inconspicuous, but new. The same thing is true of the belt, which reminds one of a quaint Swiss bodice, with its emplacements of plain material at the front. Tiny buttons placed on the girdle at each side of the front and a silk cord laced across the emplacement and tied in a bow below it make the prettiest sort of finish.

The pockets, as in nearly all plaid dresses, are cut on the bias of the goods and are very practical as well as decorative. This model might be made up in other than plaid materials by using silk where the plain fabric is used in it, with a plain or striped or checked goods.

Tricolette Embroidered.

Tricolette is especially good when it is heavily embroidered, and some of the frocks of this fabric show no ornamentation save embroidery. One, with a draped skirt, long tight sleeves that fit snugly about the wrists, and a bodice with scant fullness, has a very wide girdle heavily embroidered with wooden threads in a slightly darker shade of gray than that of the tricolette. Others show embroidered panels and bits of embroidery on waist and sleeves.

In many of the Japanese cities and towns women are acting as members of the fire departments.

Get New Kidneys!

The kidneys are the most overlooked organs of the human body, and when they fail in their work of filtering out and throwing off the poisons developed in the system, things begin to happen. One of the first warnings is pain or stiffness in the lower part of the back, highly colored urine; loss of appetite; indigestion; irritation, or even stone in the bladder. These symptoms indicate a condition that may lead to that dreaded and fatal malady, Bright's disease, for which there is said to be no cure. Do not delay a minute. At the first indication of trouble in the kidney, liver, bladder or urinary organs start taking Gold Medal Haarlem Oil Capsules, and save yourself before it is too late. Instant treatment is necessary in kidney and bladder troubles. A delay is often fatal. You can almost certainly find immediate relief in Gold Medal Haarlem Oil Capsules. For more than 200 years this famous preparation has been an unfailing remedy for all kidney, bladder and urinary troubles. It is the pure, original Haarlem Oil your great-grandmother used. About two capsules each day will keep you toned up and feeling fine. Get it at any drug store, and if it does not give you almost immediate relief, your money will be refunded. Be sure you get the GOLD MEDAL BRAND. None other genuine. In boxes, three sizes.—Adv.

TAKEN PRISONER; HIS LIFE IS SAVED

American Bombing Base.—Dr. Albert M. Stevens of New York, medical officer at this base, owes his life to the fact that he was taken prisoner by the Germans, while Dr. Harry J. Dooley of Chicago, successor to Doctor Stevens, assistant surgeon, owns his liberty to the fact that Doctor Stevens is a prisoner.

It is one of those weird romances of the sea and war. Word was flashed to the bombing base one afternoon that a seaplane was down on the surface of the water about thirty miles off the coast. A fast motor boat, ready for such emergencies, was sent out. A surgeon always accompanies such expeditions. Doctor Dooley in ordinary circumstances would have gone. But Doctor Stevens was just retiring from the post, and he thought the trip might do him good.

"I think I'll go," he said to Doctor Dooley. "It will be my last trip and the journey will be something of a relief."

He jumped into the boat and was off. There were six others aboard. They reached the stranded seaplane in a little under two hours. The flyer's men had got her into condition again and were just ready to start off. They left the motor boat and landed back at the base in good time.

Shelled by Germans. It was dark. The surgeon, seeing what he thought were lights of a town near the base, headed the motor boat in what he supposed the correct direction. They surged through the light was for an hour or more. They approached close to the supposed home lights, when suddenly the scream of a shell was heard coming straight at them. It exploded directly in the back of the boat. A second shell dropped about two hundred yards in front. "The Germans are shelling us," called one of the men.

"Where are we?" asked the skipper. They were under German guns. The lights they thought their base lights had been far off. They had been steering straight toward German-held ground.

"Jump into the water!" commanded the surgeon. The men went overboard. Half a minute later a shell struck in the center of the boat. It blew a great hole in her and sank her.

A strong current was running up the shore, Doctor Stevens and one other man, being strong swimmers, headed for the nearest point of land. They reached the beach. They were dragging themselves through the surf and had just reached the shallow water when a squad of German soldiers marched down the sands with drawn bayonets and commanded:

"Surrender! You are on German territory!" Doctor Stevens and his companion surrendered.

Merrill and the other five men were trying to make land. Two of them headed down with the current, looking for any chance to make land.

One of this trio was drowned. The other two got to land and were captured by the Germans. The two men who were left swimming in the current were in a weakened condition when two British officers ashore made them out. The Britons jumped into the surf, swam out and dragged the men ashore. They ran to a telephone and called the bombing base.

"We have two of your men suffering from exposure and exhaustion. Their boat was sunk by Germans and two of the men taken prisoner," said the voice.

Germans Raid Base.

Maurice M. Moore of Washington, D. C., jumped into the camp jitney and started for the place where the rescued men were. He had to drive over exposed roads, but he made the up-journey safely, his car loaded with blankets. He took the men aboard and started home. Suddenly shells began exploding in front of him and back of him. But through the canopy of bursting shells the little jitney made speed safely for more than five miles, getting in without even a scratch. Meanwhile the German bombing

YANKEE NURSES SHOW METTLE

London.—America has poured a veritable army of her womanhood into war-torn Europe. To date over 12,000 American nurses have been sent overseas. In the dozen or more American hospitals that have sprung into being within the past six months. The remainder are staffing hospitals behind the lines in France.

With the arrival of American soldiers at Vladivostok came a contingent of nurses from the American Red Cross unit at Tokyo, Japan. As hostilities and American casualties begin there more United States army regular nurses probably will be sent to Russia.

All Highly Trained. All women sent overseas so far are highly trained graduate nurses, bacteriologists, dietitians and college trained hygiene experts. The war department in Washington has ruled that only these trained women may be sent overseas for the time being, at least.

For this reason General Pershing's recent call for 5,000 new workers with the American army in France will be filled by British instead of American girls. England's women's army, the "Waves" (Women's Army Auxiliary Corps) is now conducting a nationwide recruiting campaign here for

MR. KAISER OF BERLIN FIRST TO REGISTER

Berlin, Conn.—That this town is doing its best to live down its name was indicated when 503 men of the town stepped up to register. And first among them, strange to say, was J. H. Kaiser. The town was one of the first in the state to erect a huge honor roll, which is evidence to visitors and passing motorists that there is no local lack of patriotism.

planes started to raid the base. The sound of exploding bombs dropping around the air base was heard by Mr. Moore even before the automobile was near home.

"Where is Stevens?" asked the executive officer, as the car drew up. "Taken prisoner by the Germans," was the reply.

"Well, I guess he is lucky at that. His pet place, in which he always stands when the raiders come, was blown to pieces half an hour ago."

"We have been wondering who is the luckier of the two—Stevens or Dooley," said the executive officer. "Dooley for not being captured or Stevens for not being killed."

AMERICAN ARMY STEAM LAUNDRY

An American steam laundry going close to the lines to clean and sterilize the underwear and uniforms of our soldiers. The big drums behind the engine filled with boiling water are needed to give the Yanks a decent appearance again after their battles.

YANKS ENJOY CHOW

With the American Army in France, "chow time" means one of the most picturesque sights along the front, especially with the Americans. It seems to mean more to the Americans than to any other army, perhaps because American "grub" is better.

Happen along through a ruined village or a woods in an American sector fifteen minutes before "chow time" and you would think the place deserted. Probably there wouldn't be more than one or two stray doughboys in sight.

Come along fifteen minutes later and you wonder "where in thunder they all came from."

They'll be lined up, and in front of each line there'll be a field kitchen steaming away, with a perspiring army cook dishing out grub that makes you want to "grab some tools and get in line" too.

There's lots of animation at "chow time" among the Americans. A crowd of Frenchmen is quiet while eating.

the only time French soldiers are quiet. They munch their bread and meat and vegetables and drink their wine in silence.

Not so with the Americans. It's a big time. First of all, there's speculation on "what's the chow for today."

Then, as they sit around on the ground, on ruins, or under trees, and that satisfied feeling of having eaten a good meal grows upon them, there's lots of life and joking among the doughboys.

"Doughboy chow" is good. Usually there is soup. Then there are meat and vegetables, usually two kinds. There are always big slices of white bread and coffee. Nine times out of ten there's dessert, probably pudding or fruit.

Each man has a pan with a handle that folds into it, and a cup. Some way they get some of everything in a four-course meal into these two instruments and never mix foods.

CUPID GETS HELLO GIRLS

London Telephone Company Has Difficulty in Keeping Corps of Operators.

London.—Dan Cupid is playing havoc with the London telephone system. So many "hello girls" have been married lately that the staffs of the various exchanges are very short-handed. Wages up to $7 a week and the lure of the telephone brings in raw recruits, but as soon as they are sufficiently trained some cooling voice over the phone interferes and there's a new unmarried girl on the job next day, telephone officials complain.

Negro Women as Nurses.

Kansas City, Mo.—The first free school in the United States to train negro women for nursing for negro soldiers, with the American expeditionary forces in France has been established here. Dr. William J. Thompson has charge of the work under the supervision of the city hospital and the health board. The course of training will be eight weeks.

His Mother Needed Money —and She Got It!

AN American soldier hurries along the street of a shell-torn village, keeping close to the shelter of the crumbling walls, and runs up the steps of a battered chateau.

He climbs to a room where sandbags are piled high to the ceiling. Behind a rough counter stands a man of middle age—a man with an emblem on his arm and a smile on his face.

"In a hurry this morning, buddy?" he asks.

"You bet I am," pants the soldier. "We're going into the trenches at noon."

"Can I help you?"

The boy thrusts one hand into his pocket and with the other points to a sign on the wall. It reads:—"SEND YOUR MONEY HOME—ASK THE SECRETARY NOW."

"Can I send this to my mother?" he asks, and draws out a roll of French bills. "She needs it."

"Of course you can," says the secretary. He counts the money carefully—twice—and then does a little figuring.

"That makes $84.60 in American money."

"And will you see that my mother gets it?"

"We will," is the answer. "I'll give you this receipt and I'll send your money to the nearest headquarters. They will forward it to Paris, and Paris will tell New York to mail your mother a check for your $84.60."

"How much will it cost me to have you do that?"

The answer is it won't cost him one cent. His mother will get the whole $84.60. Every week the War Work organizations are transmitting more than half a million dollars from the boys over there to the home folks over here.

Why you should give twice as much as you ever gave before!

The need is for a sum 70% greater than any gift ever asked for since the world began. The Government has fixed this sum at $170,500,000.

By giving to these seven organizations all at once, the cost and effort of six additional campaigns is saved.

Unless Americans do give twice as much as ever before, our soldiers and sailors may not enjoy during 1919 their:

3,600 Recreation Buildings
1,000 Miles of Movie Film
100 Leading Stage Stars
2,000 Athletic Directors
2,500 Libraries supplying 5,000,000 books
85 Hostess Houses
15,000 Big-brother "secretaries"
Millions of dollars of home comforts

When you give double, you make sure that every fighter has the cheer-and comforts of these seven organizations every step of the way from home to the front and back again. You provide him with a church, a theatre, a cheerful home, a store, a school, a club, and an athletic field—and a knowledge that the folks back home are with him, heart and soul.

You have loaned your money to supply their physical needs.

Now give to maintain the morale that is winning the war!

From the time your fighter starts for a cantonment until he reaches a front-line dug-out the seven organizations are ministering to him in big ways and little ways, to take the worries off his shoulders and to carry cheer and comfort to him. One aim—one need—now, altogether!

UNITED WAR WORK CAMPAIGN

HULLONIANS' HAPPY HOURS

Miss Maud Bragg of Portland has recently concluded a two-weeks' visit with Mrs. N. W. Wanzler.

Miss May Bullock and Mrs. Wm. C. Graham of Dorchester spent the week-end with Mrs. N. W. Wanzler.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bryant and son Newton will move to Boston this winter.

Mrs. Robert Bryant is an energetic worker in the Special Aid and is a member of the Ways and Means Committee.

Mr. J. M. Bryant left on Wednesday for a short visit to his mother, who is not well, at her home in Petersham, Mass.

It is said that at annual meeting of the Allerton Special Aid Society held at their headquarters on Wednesday, Nov. 6th, the reports were very satisfactory. The Society has enough wool and sewing material to last all winter. The annual meeting of the Mass. S. A. A. P. will be held in Boston, Nov. 13th.

Mr. L. P. Miller went to New York on Tuesday to join Mrs. Miller, who is visiting there. Both will return on Saturday.

Miss Dorothy Learned of Dana Hall, Wellesley College, was the guest of her parents at their winter home, Hemeway street, Boston, over the week-end. This was her first visit home since entering college.

It is reported that Miss Leita Mitchell and Mr. Joseph Coyle were united in marriage at the Mission Church, Roxbury, recently. Mr. Albert Auger and Miss Agnes Hickey were best man and bride's maid respectively. It is said that the young couple have gone on a wedding trip to Philadelphia.

Dr. and Mrs. James Sherman and their four interesting children are comfortably domiciled at Sturgis Hospital. Three of the children have entered the school. They came from Columbus, O. We welcome them to our midst.

We are sorry to state that at present writing Mrs. Isadore Vogel is ill with influenza. Mrs. Harry Cleverly and Mrs. Webster Mitchell, trained nurses, are taking care of Mrs. Vogel.

Recently nearly the last of our summer residents have taken their departure from our midst, much to our regret. Mrs. H. A. Warren, Miss Marie Copplinger, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. McCormack, Mr. Frank Sheldon and family, Mr. Bowen Tufts and family, Mrs. William Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Towle.

Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Belliveau will remain at their summer home, Allerton Hill, until about the middle of the month.

Many of our summer friends moved home and moved back again because of the epidemic. Then came the Indian summer of October and a great many came back on that account. Now the question is why not stay all the year around?

Mrs. Charles Randall, chairman of the Allerton Special Aid motored down with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hubbard and had the pleasure of presiding over a meeting of the S. A. A. P. on Wednesday of last week.

Although Mrs. E. Maud Mitchell resigned as director of the Village unit of the Hull Special Aid Society on Sept. 1st, she is still in charge of affairs as no one to succeed her can be found. Mrs. Mitchell's interest in the work is no less keen but she feels that she can no longer assume the responsibility.

Mrs. Carrol Cleverly and family, who have been ill, requiring the services of a trained nurse are better at present writing.

Mrs. F. B. Mitchell (E. Maud) is in receipt of an interesting letter from her son, Ensign Earl Mitchell, who writes of the good thing at Key West, Fla. Mrs. J. E. Campbell, chairman, Hull Branch Special Aid, will visit the Village unit the last Wednesday in each month. The work has been somewhat hampered the past month by the epidemic.

Schools are closed because of some cases of the influenza.

Miss Gladys Mitchell is visiting friends in Cambridge. She has her new sedan with her. Mr. and Mrs. Brewster Mitchell are also visiting friends in town.

Vaughan Nickerson was home for a short furlough last week. He likes army life very much. All were glad to see Vaughan.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Richardson are rejoicing in the birth of a daughter. Don't forget the drive of the United War Work Campaign Nov. 11-19th.

Mrs. Jas. F. Blake and her sister, Miss Chick were back for a week at their Allerton Hill home during the warm weather in October.

In honor of the sixth birthday of little Miss Virginia Belliveau, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Belliveau, a party was held Saturday, Nov. 2, at her home and took the nature of a family gathering.

Mr. George Bicknell, Miss Gertrude Hunt were guests of honor. A feature of the occasion was a birthday cake with candles.

Mrs. John Thornell entertained at luncheon recently Mr. and Mrs. John Ruderman and family, Mrs. E. J. Sirovich and Warren Nixon.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Loudon were among the last of the summer residents to leave their beautiful home on Allerton Hill and are now domiciled at their winter home.

Messrs. Pelham and Barrier and their families did not move from summer homes until after Nov. 1st.

Mrs. Timothy Noonan was one of those who stayed late.

Adrian Dowd, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Dowd, left on Wednesday for Virginia, where he has entered in aviation training camp.

Mr. J. Clifford James and his chum, Mr. James Canavan, spent the week-end recently with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. James of Natick avenue.

Prickly Saltwort Once Valuable.

The prickly saltwort, so common on sandy shores, was once much used in preparing carbonate of soda.

Thespian Topics

BUSINESS BEFORE PLEASURE

The following are some of the comments of the New York press on "Business Before Pleasure," the great Eltinge Theatre success, which A. H. Woods will present at the Shubert-Wilbur Theatre, on Monday next, November 4th, for a limited engagement.

"Business Before Pleasure" is funnier than "Potash and Perlmutter."—N. Y. World.

"Business Before Pleasure" is convulsingly funny."—N. Y. Evening World.

"Business Before Pleasure" is the third and latest of the famous Potash and Perlmutter comedies, revealing the erstwhile cloak and suit partners in a new environment as film magnates. It is the work of Montague Glass, creator of the original stories, and Jules Eckert Goodman, the famous playwright. It played at the Eltinge Theatre, N. Y., in capacity audiences, turning away hundreds at every performance. The Wednesdays and Saturday matinees will be given, as well as the regular six week-day evening performances.

OTIS SKINNER AT HOLLIS STREET THEATRE

It was as Colonel Philippe Bidan, in "The Honor of the Family," that Otis Skinner made one of the greatest hits of his career. Since first producing the comedy some ten years ago, Mr. Skinner has again and again been petitioned to revive it, and at last Charles Frohman has persuaded him to undertake it.

"The Honor of the Family" is an adaptation by Paul M. Potter of a comedy by Emile Fabre, founded on a Balzac story, "Un Menage de Garcon." The scenes of the play are laid in France in the Napoleonic period. The hero, Colonel Philippe Bidan, a former member of the emperor's army, is a blustering, fire-eating fellow, but endowed with enough wit and courage to cope with and overcome the clever and unscrupulous adventures who are trying to rob him and his family of their rightful inheritance.

Mr. Skinner's performance of the role is an historic classic of the American stage, and his engagement at the Hollis Street Theatre, which begins Monday, November 4th, is bound to attract the hosts of admirers who will remember him with pleasure in his first production of the piece, and many of the new generation of theatre-goers.

CASTLE SQUARE.

For the second week of the season at the Castle Square, "The Mistletoe Lady" will be the play. This highly delightful and popular farce will receive its first Boston presentation by a stock company, and being filled with laughable incidents and amusing dialogue, it promises to furnish abundant amusement. Its scenes are in the wilds of the Adirondacks, and an abduction of a comic nature is its principal motive. To those picturesque regions go the hero and heroine, and there they encounter a somewhat crack-brained man who believes that he is the reincarnation of the Emperor Napoleon. This is of course a plot that throws probability to the winds, but that is exactly what is sought by the dramatists, and the play is made all the more diverting.

The Castle Square Stock Company is now firmly established in the favor of Boston playgoers. It is exceptionally well balanced, it contains several old favorites and a number of new players that bid fair to become no less popular. Its full strength will be in the cast of "The Mistletoe Lady," the leading roles being in the hands of Dudley Ayres, Mark Kent, Joseph Sweeney, Ted Le Due, Ann MacDonald, Blanche Frederici, Dorothy Tierney and Betty Margaret.

Matinees are given daily at the Castle Square, and there will be a change of play every Monday.

COPLEY THEATRE

Shaw's comedy, "You Never Can Tell" will be the play at the Copley Theatre the coming week. This play by the brilliant Irishman who is unquestionably the leader among modern playwrights was successful when it was acted at the Copley Theatre two seasons ago, and its revival comes in response to many requests for its repetition. Its plot centres about the personality of a butler, and it is filled with the characteristic Shawian wit that has been no small factor in the making of Shaw's reputation. It tells a coherent story, its characters are diversified in the extreme, and there is scarcely a moment either in its action or in its dialogue when the audience is not kept in roars of laughter.

In fact, Shaw was never in livelier mood than when he was writing "You Never Can Tell," and that account largely for its popularity. He does not preach in it, he has no doctrines or theories to promulgate, he is simply writing a play for the purpose of amusement. It will be staged at the Copley under the personal direction of Henry Jewett, and the cast will include Phyllis Street Theatre, which begins Monday, November 4th, is bound to attract the hosts of admirers who will remember him with pleasure in his first production of the piece, and many of the new generation of theatre-goers.
